THE LAST OF GALA WEEK.

Committees Compare Notes and Settle the Affairs of the Event.

The last and hardest work connected with Greensboro's gala week and the firemen's tournament was done at the court house last night. A small number of business men, most of them members of one or more of the several gala week committees, met there to settle up the affairs of the event. J. Van Lindley presided. Neil Ellington, treasurer of the central committee, reported a deficit of about $700. Messrs. Walsh and Nelson, of the horse racing committee, reported a balance of $183.26, and Mayor Taylor, chairman of the committee on industrial exhibits, reported a balance of about $50. The music committee, through A. H. Alderman, asked for $25 to add to the $75 which was left for the Gate City band. This was satisfactorily settled. A number of small bills were ordered paid, and it was found that about $175 more was needed. Chief Phipps, of the fire department, said that the firemen of the city would contribute $150 from their funds and E. P. Wharton, ever generous, offered to settle the rest. So Greensboro winds up the affairs of gala week without having to call upon the citizens for another cent.

JUDGES REPORT.

Resolved 1, That your committee appointed to decide between the floats and make an award to the most beautiful one finds itself in the embarrassing position of not being able to comply with your request, owing to the great merit of all.

Resolved 2, We commend the designers and makers of the floats for their beauty of conception and the artistic manner in which the same were carried out. As an illustration of the different occupations, trades, arts and professions, they deserve the highest encomiums of praise and have reflected great credit upon themselves, their city, county and state and furnished to the public a pageant of rare excellence and beauty.

[It was understood at the meeting last night that the three floats which the committee decided were most meritorious were those of the Southside Hose Company, The Daily Record and the State Normal and Industrial College.—Telegram]

After the most important business before the meeting was disposed of, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

THE SOUTHERN THANKED.
Whereas, The success of our gala week and state firemen's tournament depended in a large measure on the low railroad rates secured for the occasion; and

Whereas, The Southern Railway Company granted the lowest possible rates; therefore be it resolved by the citizens of Greensboro

1. That our thanks are due and are hereby extended to the Southern Railway Company for their kindness in granting the exceedingly low rates, and for the extra service inaugurated to handle the immense crowd.

2. That we appreciate the courtesy of the officials and employees of the said railway company in their efforts to make the occasion a success and assure them of our hearty thanks.

3. That these resolutions be published in our city papers and a copy sent each of the leading dailies of the state for publication, and also that a copy be sent to the officials of the Southern Railway Company.

A vote of thanks was also tendered the ladies of the city—those who arranged the art exhibit and also those who opened their homes to guests.

NOTES ON THE MEETING.

Mayor Taylor remarked that the industrial exhibit in the Banner warehouse was the best show ever given for the money, in the history of the world. C. H. Ireland and Dr. Melver eulogized the Gate City Band. Mr. Ireland said that it was little, if any, behind the First Regiment Band and Dr. Melver said that no city in the state could boast of a finer musical organization.

Too Young to Fight.

One youth who aspired to be a soldier and go to the Philippines, had his hopes blighted here today. His name is Charles Fulbright and he came here yesterday afternoon from Winston to enlist in the army. His father learned of his intentions this morning and forthwith telegraphed the authorities here to hold him. They did so and the father arrived on the 11:30 train from Winston and the two returned home on the 12:15 train. The father says the boy is only 16 years of age, though the latter told at the recruiting station that he was 18.

We still have a few dozen pairs of children's and infants' tan and black Oxfords and sandals to sell at out prices. Come and pick out the size, we will make the price to suit you. Thacker & Brookmann.

THE NAPIDAN'S SIX-POUNDERS

Shell a Town, Killing a Child and Terrifying the Inhabitants Out of Their Wits.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Manila, August 8—The gunboat Napidan last week shelled the rebel town of Pate, on the lake near Santa Cruz. The town was full of people encouraged to return by Lawton's expedition having assured them they would not be molested if they peacefully attended to their business. Lieutenant Capp heard the insurgents had recaptured the town, and steaming close to shore, opened fire with his six-pounders without warning the people. Seeing the boat approaching they fled in terror to the hills, barely having time to escape. One child was killed and many buildings damaged. The authorities express regret over the error.

CAPTAIN OTIS ARRESTED.

Manila, August 8—After taking Colonel General Lawton ordered that Captain Otis, of the Washington regiment, be relieved from command and placed under arrest on account of the slowness and seeming reluctance of the companies under his command to obey their orders to disembark from the cascos and wade in the marshes under fire. The men say the majority of them have been sick and unfit for duty and that they were given to understand they would not be asked to do any more fighting.

APPEALS FOR RECOGNITION.

Manila, August 8—Aguinaldo has appealed to the powers for recognition of Filipino independence. The document is dated at Terlap, July 27, and signed "Buencamino." All foreign consuls at Manila have received a copy with the request to forward to their respective governments.

Set a good example and others will follow it. This is what Alfred Brothers did when they paved their side walk the other day. Since that time the material for the construction of a better walk in front of the Enterprise office (next door) is being hauled. Let others follow suit and the improvement will speak well for our town—especially during the winter months.

THE DANGEROUS GAS MAN.

Sets Fire to Window Decorations—Goods Damaged.

An exciting little fire occurred about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in the south window at Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees' clothing store. One of the gas company's employees was in the window seeking to discover a gas leak and in striking matches to hold against a suspicious joint in the pipe, set fire to some of the bunting with which the window has been profusely decorated since the beginning of gala week. Immediately the fire spread all over the window and it was with difficulty that the excited gas man and the clerks saved anything. Several handsome ties, and one or two fine suits of clothes, and other miscellaneous goods were either destroyed or badly damaged. The goods and decorations were torn down and the fire extinguished. The total damage is about $25 or $30. One of the well groomed dummies received a scorching.

A BIG AUTOMOBILE SHOW

To Be Held at Charleston Next November.

NEXT NATIONAL CONVENTION

Of the Democratic Party May Be Held in Kansas City—Governor Stone of Missouri.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, August 8—Mr. John Woerner, of this city, who has just returned from a trip to Charleston, S. C., where he went to meet the executive committee, in connection with the coming automobile show to be held in that city from November 21st to 24th, inclusive, was seen at his office in this city last Monday morning. Mr. Woerner says that the show in Charleston next November is not in any sense intended to be merely a local affair. It is the intention of the management to make it an international exhibition. The chief purpose is to place on exhibition before the people of Charleston, and the south, automobiles, motor-cycles, electrical vehicles, and bicycles of almost every kind and description. The big auditorium, which is to be used for this show will be ample, and will afford all the space necessary. He says the Charleston auditorium is by far the finest building of its character in the south, and also compares very favorably with the other big auditoriums of the country, being third or fourth in point of size. Among other features of the show will be a street parade, the object of which will be with the view of showing the adaptability of the automobile to the business of Charleston. Every inducement will be used to get a large number of firms to send exhibits, as the show is bound to prove a great advertising medium to them which will be profitable.

Mr. Woerner is of the opinion that a large number of people will be in Charleston at the exhibition, many of them not being drawn merely by a desire to see the show, but will desire to see and investigate the automobile as it applies to business uses. The railroad will co-operate with the management, and it is probable that a low schedule of rates will be arranged. It is the intention of the management of the show to run excursions from all of the surrounding states. This will include excursions from the south as far as Macon, Savannah, Jacksonville, Florida points, and possibly from as far as New Orleans. Excursions will also be run from North Carolina and Virginia and other states.

Dr. John Archinard, of New Orleans, is in the city enroute it is said to Hampton, Virginia, for the purpose of investigating the yellow fever epidemic at the National Soldiers' Home there. Dr. Archinard is a professor of bacteriology in the Tulane University, and is one of the recognized yellow fever experts in this country. He stated Monday when seen that he knows nothing of the situation in Virginia excepting that he has gathered through the daily newspapers. He is convinced, however, that there is no reason for the slightest alarm here in Washington. The maximum of mortality, he thinks probably has been reached, but of this, he says, there can be no definite conclusion as yet.

Dr. Archinard was at the marine hospital bureau Monday, and was in consultation some time with Dr. Wyman. It is understood that he left for Hampton last night.

Harvey Fleming, the well known journalist and managing editor of the Kansas City Journal, is in Washington for a few days, being here on personal business. Mr. Fleming is of the opinion that the next democratic national convention will be held in Kansas City. The city contains one of the largest convention halls in the country and is able to care for a large number of men such as the national convention will be composed of. As to the probable nominee of the convention Mr. Fleming is of the opinion that the choice for first place will be between Bryan and Governor Stone, of Missouri. He intimates that it is not entirely settled that Bryan will be the nominee again next year. Governor Stone, he thinks, would prove a strong candidate in the western section.

Much interest is being manifested in the convention to be held at Alexandria, Virginia, to name a democratic candidate for the house of delegates. The primaries will be held on the 15th instant. The contest is between Frank Hume, the well known business man of Washington, and J. R. Caton, a popular lawyer of Alexandria. Mr. Hume has established headquarters in this city as well as in Alexandria.

Star service change has been ordered from Roxboro to Centre Grove from August 14th to supply Brookland between Roxboro and Allensville, increasing distance one mile. J. B. Underwood, of North Carolina, was registered at the Metropolitan Hotel Monday afternoon.

NEWS FROM WINSTON.

Prominent Citizen Dies—A Farmer Leaves Home Without Warning.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Winston, N. C., August 8—J. I. Styers, of this city, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon. He was 48 years old and had been in declining health for the past two or three years. He leaves a wife and three children. He was a member of Fairview Council Jr. O. U. A. M. and will be buried tomorrow with the honors of that order.

Alexander Griffith, a highly respected citizen living seven miles west of Winston, left home at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and has not returned. Mr. Griffith, who is the father of Solicitor E. A. Griffith, of Forsyth criminal court, is 68 years old and has been in poor health for some time. Parties of neighbors searched for him all last night without finding any trace of him whatever. It is feared he has taken his own life.

MEN COME AND MEN GO

But the Worm Dieth Not—O, to Steal a While Away.

Music—divine intoxication of the heart! He that is moved not by the concord of sweet sounds is indeed a miserable piece of humanity. But there is a limit to the soul's passion—a step to human endurance. The Telegram appeals to the Muses—we've had a surfeit of rude airs. Since time way back yonder whereof the memory of man reacheth not, a violin from somewhere in this vicinity has cried out unceasingly in its agony. The station of the performer must be in some obscure spot unhaunted by foot of human, for we know that Greensboro has an efficient police force. The would-be-player's patience seems to find an equal only in the instrument's obstreperousness. Men come and men go, gala weeks and firemen's tournaments fade into the dizzy past, seasons roll along in monotonous confusion, the sun is dying and the moon is turning green, but that fiddler fiddles on forever.

Soldiers Coming Home.

Washington, August 8—Otis cables that a three-days' typhoon renders work barely possible. The Pennsylvania regiment will leave Illinois this afternoon with Pennsylvanians, Minnesotans, South Dakotans and other discharged men. They will leave for San Francisco on the eleventh.

Strike at Chattanooga.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.
Chattanooga, Tenn., August 8—The expected street railway strike started last night. It is not as large as was expected. Many of the men have repudiated the union and continued in the employ of the company. All who remained members of the union have been discharged.

THE FUTURE OF NORTH CAROLINA AND THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

"Education and machinery are the two forces that will build up North Carolina," Dr. George T. Winston.

The committee on textile instruction in the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh met at Charlotte last Saturday for the purpose of mapping out a course of textile instruction and to devise ways and means to carry out the same. After a careful conference of the committee, the following resolutions were adopted:

- Resolved, That the course of instruction in textile science and art heretofore prescribed by the board of trustees be carried out by the faculty according to the following general plan:
- That the full course leading to the degree of bachelor of science in textile art shall embrace a period of four years' instruction, of which the first two years shall be identical with the course in mechanical engineering.
- That the third year shall include instruction in the following subjects: Opening, carding, spinning and weaving plain white and check goods.
- That the fourth year shall include instruction in dyeing, bleaching, designing and the use of dobbies and Jacquards, with lectures each year on mill management.
- That the degree shall be conferred after one year's practical work in a mill succeeding the completion of the college course.

The committee was unanimous in the opinion that a building should be constructed immediately, and that machinery should be procured at once. The following resolution was adopted: That the executive committee be earnestly requested to authorize the president of the college to procure funds for the immediate construction of a building to cost about $10,000, suitable for instruction in textile art. It is expected that the proper arrangements will be made and that the contract will be given for the building and work begun at an early date. Donations of money and machinery will be asked from cotton mill people of this state and others. There is reason to hope that the New England manufacturers of mill machinery will donate the machinery needed. President Winston will visit the leading factories during his approaching trip north. Many applications have already been received from young men desiring textile instruction. This instruction is open also freely to the young women of the state, and it is hoped and expected that a large number of them will be added to the student roll.

Dr. George T. Winston, the able, newly elected president of the college, attended the committee's meeting, and while there the Charlotte Observer had a very interesting interview with him touching upon the future of the college and of the industrial outlook for North Carolina. We are very much pleased to notice that Dr. Winston will not swerve his institution from its true and legitimate mission, as has been erroneously charged. While the A. & M. College will furnish to its students a reasonably good literary and scientific education, it will in nowise be a contentious rival of the literary colleges of the state, but will make a specialty of giving to the young men who enter its doors a complete education in textile science and art. It is cheering to notice with what enthusiasm Dr. Winston contemplates his new work. He told the Observer:

"I regard the mission and the future of the Agricultural and Mechanical College to be far greater than that of any university. As the chief work of North Carolina is the establishment and maintenance of industries developing her resources and profitably employing her large and increasing population, so the mission of the Agricultural and Mechanical College is to actively and intelligently promote and direct this work. Those now here are struggling for an existence. Every one of them needs an endowment twice as large as the combined endowment now enjoyed by them all. I have no desire to make a university of the college, but I desire to help make it a great institute of technology, becoming for the South what the Massachusetts Institute of Technology is for New England."

Asked by the reporter of the future of North Carolina, compared with that of Texas, the following prophetic utterance of one so broad-minded and ably foresighted as the new president, is highly encouraging:

"I think that before long North Carolina will cease to grow the staple crops, excepting as a surplus product for home consumption by its own population, and that Texas will always remain a purely agricultural state, the greatest in the south. The population of that state in ten years will probably be five million and the cotton crop probably five million bales. They will produce cotton at 5 cents a pound as easily as we can at 10 cents. In one or two generations more, North Carolina will have passed through the period of poverty, tribulation and privation that it has been undergoing since 1860, and that a constantly growing urban and manufacturing population will be furnishing a good market for all its own agricultural products, and by the exporting of manufactured goods will be bringing in cash from all quarters of the globe. When this time comes, North Carolina will be really a wealthier state per capita than Texas."

We may look for the large part our future greatness to result solely from the efforts of such men as Dr. Winston, who have a deep and lasting love for the state. And we make the prediction that under his guiding hand the technical institution at Raleigh will be a powerful lever in the lifting of North Carolina to the elevation to which she rightfully belongs—far above all her sister states.

Sunday was a day fraught with the direst calamity. Twenty persons were killed by the collapse of a gang plank at Bar Harbor, Me. In a trolley accident at Bridgeport, Conn., twenty-eight were killed and thirteen injured. And there were many other disastrous occurrences of lesser importance.

Charlotte's Benevolent Fire Boys.

The reel team held a meeting last night to wind up the business of the Greensboro trip. After all bills were paid the team had $100 left, which they donated to the orphans. The invitation to the Virginia meet, to be held September 27, 28 and 29, at Roanoke, was received, but the team has not yet decided whether they will go, as it is late in the season. After the meeting, the Hoster Brewing Company through Mr. Wendenfellow, did the honors until the boys were ready to make another grab race. Instead they reeled home.—Charlotte Observer.

Notes of The Prowler

"Sorry to have neglected you so long," said the Prowler as he feebly strolled into the office this morning, "but I have been struggling with the hot weather, and trying to keep up with the doings of the firemen. I attended the tournament here last week and witnessed the whole thing. I became interested in the races early in the game and stuck to them to the last in spite of the heat, and in spite of dirty language and disgraceful scenes heard and witnessed on the track. The wonder of the whole thing is that the Greensboro boys were able to withstand the vile epithets hurled at them by that crowd of boys from the east who left all their gentlemanly instincts at home."

"I have seen mobs. I have seen crowds of soldiers, so-called, both black and white, from all parts of the country, and have been appalled at some of their actions, but I most solemnly affirm that never in my life have I seen such unblushing disregard of decency or heard such vile language in the presence of ladies as I heard from some of the Goldsboro and Newbern boys at the late tournament in Greensboro. If there was any excuse for it I could not see it."

"I looked and listened in wonderment and astonishment. I listened until my blood got as hot as the burning rays of the scorching August sun. I thought I should be compelled to fight, but I saw the heroic efforts made by the Greensboro fire department to maintain their self-respect and the honor of the city by avoiding a clash with their visitors, and I said to myself: 'Behave, sir, you must be a gentleman.' The charge of the disturbers that Greensboro displayed cowardice, is utterly false, in my opinion. It was the highest and best instincts of the true gentleman that actuated the boys in turning their backs on the insults. They were here as our guests, and if they disregarded all rules of propriety and decency, the blame and the share be upon them. I hope never to see the like again, and if it keeps up every year the toughs will have all the association to themselves."

"Besides all this I had my face so badly sunburned that I have since been almost afraid to touch it—afraid the skin will peel off."

And the prowler took a bottle of Gardner's Almond Cream Lotion from his pocket, bathed his face with it, saying that three applications had taken the soreness almost entirely off. He further said he would hereafter recommend it to all people who have no more sense than to stand in the sun four whole days and witness a firemen's tournament.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded."

ALL COONS LOOK ALIKE.

Johannesburg Policemen Maltreat an American Negro.

Johannesburg, August 7.—A colored American citizen, a blacksmith, was mistaken for a Kaffir outside the exchange and was cruelly maltreated by the police, among whom was a field cornet, for his inability to produce a pass. The United States consul has taken the matter up.

The negro, who is a blacksmith by trade, was leading horses from his forge Friday morning when three mounted policemen appeared and demanded that he show his pass. They used abusive language.

The negro produced a paper proving him to be an American citizen, and protested against the abusive language. Thereupon the policemen dismounted, knocked him down and kicked him in the back with their spurs.

During the afternoon Dr. Matthews, to whom the American consul had sent the negro for medical treatment, exhibited nine spur wounds to the crowd that gathered. A dramatic scene ensued. Dr. Matthews harangued the people, appealing for justice and accused Field Cornet Lombard of being concerned.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the policemen. Lombard has submitted an affidavit denying that he was involved in the assault.

Porto Ricans Protest Against Sentence of Execution for Murder.

San Juan, August 7.—A provisional court at Ponce has passed death sentence on Jerry James, an American, why, as evidence brought out in the trial showed, was guilty of murder in having fired into a crowd, killing a boy.

Native newspapers are taking up the case and protesting against execution of the sentence. Their contention is that the death penalty is against the traditions of the Porto Ricans, and that the act of the state taking the life of a citizen is as criminal as the offense of the person put to death. Only one execution of the death sentence has occurred in Porto Rico in ten years.

No Moustaches in Alaska.
Men exposed to the rigors of the Alaskan winters never wear moustaches. They wear full beards to protect the throat and face, but keep the upper lip clean shaven. The moisture from the breath congeals so quickly that a moustache becomes embedded in a solid cake of ice, and the face is frozen in a short time.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

D'Auber—"No, I'm not a professional. My aim in painting is to kill time." Cynicus—"Well, you ought to be successful; those pictures of yours would kill most anything."

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and sellable.

"Boy man," says Brother Watkins, "kin talk himself out a job a hull lot easier'n he kin talk himself inter one."

All weak places in your system effectually closed against disease by DeWitt's Little Early Risers. They cleanse the bowels, promptly cure chronic constipation, regulate the liver, and fill you with new life and vigor. Small, pleasant, sure; never gripe. Howard Gardner.

Mt. Vernon Springs Hotel is now open for the reception of guests. The waters from the Mt. Vernon Springs are equalled by few and surpassed by none in the state for medicinal and curative properties. Some of its cures are almost miraculous. Its taste is pleasant, cool, palatable and refreshing, and you enjoy it from the first. The springs are surrounded by great natural beauty. Around the premises is a dense oak grove and the air is pure and invigorating.

This most desirable of health and pleasure resorts is located just one mile west of Ore Hill in Chatham county. For further information address the owner and proprietor,

A FOURTEEN POUND CARP.

Fine Success of a Greensboro Fishing Party.

Three or four bushels of fish ranging from one to fourteen pounds each.
How's that for fisherman's luck?

If that statement smells fishy, it is because it got the scent from the genuine article. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, with other members of their respective households, went to Coletrane's mill, on Deep River, yesterday, to catch, cook, and eat fish. They returned about 1:30 today and report luck according to the statement made above. In order that they might not be accused of telling fish stories (which are so often discredited) they brought home with them a lot of fish, the largest of which was a carp weighing fourteen pounds, and measuring two and one-half feet in length. Heavy rain out at the mill brought the party home sooner than they expected.

Raided the Pest House.

The Greensboro police are scrutinizing dark corners for Will Huffines and Doc Benson, two young white men who are wanted in Burlington. The boys, it seems, refused to recognize smallpox as a fact when the disease was making things warm in Burlington and to show their contempt, laid hostile hands on the pest house. The police then became interested in the game and the boys left town for obvious reasons. Officer Jeffries caught sight of one of the offenders this morning, but the color of the policeman's clothes gave him away and the young man vanished.

JOHNSON MANUFACTURING CO.

A Small Enterprise that does a Big Business.

There is a small manufacturing enterprise in Greensboro that does a big business; and few people in the city know that it is here. It is the Johnson Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of metal cornices and sky-lights for buildings, which is located in the Fields building on Fayetteville street. The company employs five men here at present, three or four in Raleigh, where they have the contract to do the cornice work, and furnish several domes for the Deaf Dumb and Blind Asylum building which is being remodelled.

The Johnson Manufacturing Company is the only concern of the kind in the State.
Mr. Johnson came here to do the cornice work on the new depot, and finding a ripe field and unequalled advantages, decided to locate. His success has been phenomenal, and he now has orders for work for months ahead.

Besides the asylum building in Raleigh, the company has the contract to furnish the domes and cornices on the new graded school building at Durham, the masonic temple at Rocky Mt., and the masonic temple at Wilmington, the latter one of the finest buildings in the state.

Samples of their work in Greensboro are seen on the new depot and on the Southern Loan and Trust Company's new building on East Market street.

A COMPLIMENTARY PARTY

Given Her Friends by Miss Bessie
Eller—Miss Moore, Guest of Honor.

Miss Bessie Eller gave a party last evening at her home on Belle Meade avenue, complimentary to her visiting friend, Miss Blanche Moore, of Thomasville.
Quite a number of merry young people responded gladly to the handsome invitations and the parlor of the Eller home was the scene of jollity and happily bestowed hospitality the hostess made every one enjoy the occasion immensely.

At 10:30 o'clock cake and cream were served in the most enjoyable manner and after another hour of games and social conversation the much-pleased guests departed.
